

About The Speaker

Tom Stewart, M.S., PA-C, J.D., is a Social Security Disability attorney as well as a Licensed Physician Assistant with a specialty in neurology.

As an attorney, Tom Stewart has a decade of experience helping individuals with chronic disease receive Social Security Disability benefits. His depth of practice in Social Security Disability law includes high success rates at the initial and hearing levels. As a medical professional, he is well equipped to work in concert with your care providers to develop the required evidence of disability.

Tom is passionate about the field and has worked hard to bring his specialties together, developing collaborative care models that help individuals with chronic diseases receive Social Security Disability benefits. In addition to his legal practice, Tom continues to work part-time in a MS specialty clinic and stays active in the clinical research community.

Tom received his undergraduate degree from the University of Notre Dame, his law degree from Boston College, and his Master's Degree related to his physician assistant license from the University of Colorado. Tom is a member of the National Organization of Social Security Claimants' Representatives (NOSSCR).

Stewart Disability Law

The Aurora-based firm Tom founded has been focused on disability benefits law for many years. It understands the complicated Social Security system and wants to help clients receive the benefits to which they are entitled. The firm brings legal and medical knowledge and experience together to provide clients with the best representation possible.
