

DR. KASSIE JOHNSON

O.D., F.A.A.O AT PINE CREEK VISION CLINIC

Dr. Kassandra (Kassie) Johnston received her Doctor of Optometry degree from the University of Houston College of Optometry (UHCO). After graduation, she stayed at UHCO to complete a residency in Neuro-optometric Rehabilitation. There she attended the Pediatrics clinic, Brain Injury Vision Assessment & Rehabilitation Service, and Non-invasive Objective Visual Assessment (NOVA) Service. She additionally built a new clinic serving the special needs population.

By the time of her move to Colorado Springs, Dr. Johnston was the Director of the Brain Injury Vision Rehabilitation Residency at UHCO.

Dr. Johnston is excited to put all her experience towards a practice that she and her husband, Dr. Casey Johnson, can call their own. In addition, Dr. Johnston is a popular speaker for continuing education programs, and she teaches in both classroom and clinical settings.
